IV. DEFINITIONS

Attorney General's Office or A.G.: The Arizona Attorney General unit assigned to provide legal assistance to the Department.

Arizona Department of Administration / Risk Management (ADOA): the unit with ADOA whose purpose is to protect the state's assets from loss and minimize employee injuries on the job.

Department or DCS: The Arizona Department of Child Safety.

DCS Distribution Center: The facility where DCS records are stored, retrieved, and eventually destroyed according record retention schedules.

Electronically stored information, or ESI, is any information that is created or stored electronically. ESI includes the metadata (defined below) contained in all electronic documents. Examples of items which may include ESI are: writings, drawings, graphs, charts, originals and copies, word processing documents, e-mail and e-mail attachments, spreadsheets, instant and text messages, databases, calendars, and planners, audio and videos, PowerPoint slide decks and other multimedia, voicemail and all other types of information that is commonly created, stored, and transferred by a computer, including relevant information stored on your home computer(s) and other personal electronic device(s).

Employee: For the purpose of this policy, employee means all DCS full-time, part-time, paid employees; students; interns; and volunteers.

Litigation Hold Process: The identification, collection, and preservation of information that may be relevant to pending or reasonably anticipated litigation or other legal process (e.g., court-ordered retention orders, audits, grievances, public records requests).

Litigation Hold Notice: Letter or other notice informing employee of actual or reasonably anticipated litigation, otherwise known as a pre-claim, and directing employee or group of employees to identify, collect, and preserve relevant information. The letter may come from the Department, another agency, the AG, or private individual, entity, or their attorney

Litigation Hold Service Ticket: a request from a supervisor or Litigation Liaison to the Information Technology (IT) department to place a litigation hold on an employee's records.

Litigation Liaison: The person or persons to whom the Department assigns overall responsibility for notifying the appropriate Program regarding litigation holds. The Litigation Liaison ensures that the litigation holds are implemented.

Metadata is "information about information:" a set of data that describes and gives information about other data.

Non-state entities: DCS contractors, subcontractors, Department agents, vendors, or licensees.

Office of General Counsel: The Department's internal counsel.

Reasonable anticipation of litigation: When an organization reasonably believes or is on notice of a credible probability that it will become involved in litigation, seriously contemplates initiating litigation, or when it takes specific actions to commence litigation. The standard for reasonable anticipation of litigation is objective. If a reasonable person would have expected litigation, the Department's duty to identify, collect, and preserve generally is triggered.

Records: All hardcopy and electronic books, paper, emails, maps, photographs, drafts, markups, or other documentary materials, regardless of physical form or characteristics, including prints or copies of such items produced or reproduced on film or electronic media pursuant to A.R.S. § 41-151.16; made or received by any governmental agency in pursuance of law or in connection with the transaction of public business and preserved or appropriate for preservation by the agency or its legitimate successor as evidence of the organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, operations, or other activities of the government, or because of the informational and historical value of the data contained therein, and includes records that are made confidential by statute. Library or museum material made or acquired solely for reference or exhibition purposes, extra copies of documents preserved only for convenience of reference and stocks of publications or documents intended for sale or distribution to interested persons are not included within the definition of records. All records media are included in this definition from the traditional paper forms to electronic types in use (i.e., email, social media), and/or forms of records not yet invented.

V. POLICY

- A. All employees shall retain any record that is relevant to pending or reasonably anticipated litigation as follows:
 - 1. For active or reasonably anticipated litigation, the records shall be held until final resolution of the action, which shall include final adjudication of the action at the last level of appeal, or until order of the court, or when the normal record retention ends, whichever is later;
 - 2. In the case of reasonably anticipated litigation:
 - a. The Department shall retain relevant records until the prospect of litigation ends or according to the public records schedules for CS-1182, Rev. 1 (DCS - All Divisions) whichever is later; and

- b. If there is no court action, until the expiration of all time periods within which legal action may be taken.
- B. The Department shall ensure that all information related to actual or anticipated litigation, including paper, electronically stored records, and ESI are:
 1. Never stored on a local drive and are always retained on a network location, such as an employee's OneDrive or division shared drive;
 2. Maintained according to the DCS Record Retention schedules. Records subject to a litigation hold shall not be destroyed until the litigation hold is lifted. Email accounts will be suspended by the Department after an employee's termination from employment for 30 days and terminated after 60 days unless subject to a litigation hold and/or requested to be preserved to ensure compliance with retention schedules;
 3. Identified and placed on litigation hold when the Department becomes aware of a lawsuit, situation, claim, charge, grievance, or incident that may reasonably lead to litigation. These include, but are not limited to, the following:
 - a. Receipt of a Litigation Hold letter or notice from the Office of the Attorney General;
 - b. An incident, conversation, email, or other event that indicates litigation is reasonably anticipated;
 - c. Occurrence of any event that may reasonably lead to litigation as determined by the Office of General Counsel and/or Office of the Attorney General;
 - d. Opening of a pre-claim investigation;
 - e. Filing of a Notice of Claim;
 - f. Filing of a lawsuit;
 - g. Charges of employment discrimination;
 - h. Personnel actions as they pertain to anticipated litigation;
 4. Retained and not released until authorized to do so;
 - a. If there are records subject to litigation hold, the Department

Litigation Liaison should be notified and shall give instructions for the continued identification, collection, and preservation of the records.

- b. When an employee resigns, terminates employment with the Department, or is on extended leave (e.g., sick, administrative, leave without pay), the employee's supervisor shall:
 - i. contact the Litigation Liaison within 15 days of employee's end of employment with the Department to determine whether the employee has any records subject to a litigation hold; and
 - ii. ensure that the employee's records (hard copy and electronic) are not destroyed or deleted until the supervisor has determined that the employee did not have any records subject to a litigation hold. The supervisor must make this determination within 30 days of the employee's termination.
 - c. Prior to destroying, disposing, or deleting any record which was subject to a litigation hold, the supervisor and/or Distribution Center shall ensure that the time frame outlined in the applicable Department disposition schedule has passed.
 - d. DCS Information Technology (IT) may contact the Litigation Liaison to determine if an employee whose account is scheduled for termination is subject to a litigation hold before deleting any information from or 'wiping' the computer, laptop, tablet or cellular device/phone of an employee who has terminated employment.
- C. The Department shall document all actions taken in response to a litigation hold, particularly those actions taken to preserve any relevant records. Items to document may include, but are not limited to, the following:
- 1. Copies of all notices sent to persons and/or entities regarding the identification, collection, and preservation of relevant records and any responses received.
 - 2. Records of conversations regarding identification of sources and preservation of records.

3. Signed confirmation of having been notified to identify, collect, and preserve records.
4. Copies of all emails/correspondence from any counsel.

VI. PROCEDURES
